

Example Timeline

This is a basic timeline template, with years and ages along the bottom and with events on the timeline as far as we can foresee. Notice the timeline doesn't (yet) extend past the planned FI or retirement date. The idea here is to have place holders for events which can become monetary goals, but it really helps to visualise the timeline like this.

Example Timeline - Expenses

Where we're trying to get to is a timeline with expenses on it for each year, such as the stepped lines below. Please be aware, this diagram is flawed (It's drawn manually!) as in reality inflation would compound over time, so the line would increase on a curve rather than in straight steps.

Here, basic expenditure is in grey, Desired expenditure above that in green, and then one-off or short term expenditure in blue in the given year, such as costs for a big holiday, or university costs. The effect is summed, so the highest horizontal line in each year is the total costs for that year.
